

The Beginning of New Smart System

P R E S S R E L E A S EDenmark, July 2007It is with great pleasure, that we now can announce the commencement of sales from New Smart System. New Smart System is a new company with focus on professional loudspeaker systems. The company is founded by Anders Christensen, and draws on his experience from more than 15 years of business in pro-audio world. A mixed group of very talented people now works together to create new solutions. The right mix of essential real-world experience and a highly skilled scientific approach, ensures development of innovative high quality sound systems for use in rental, installation and similar demanding uses. Manufacturing and logistics are handled in Poland, making it possible to maintain a very attractive pricing structure and short delivery times. As a fresh company, New Smart Systems looks for customers who are professional and able to make an independent judgement based on what they hear; who wish to make a good deal and who is interested in long term business.
